HARDWARE AND GROCERIES

Local and General

Good afternoon.

All stores will be closed to-morrow, it being Dominion Day.

Our contemporary, the Carstairs Journal seems to have just awakened to the fact that Carstairs is pretty dead.

Take your Watch, Clock and Jewelry Repairing to Motheral the Jeweler, Crossfield.

The Canadian Pacific Railway announce a fare of 35 cents for Fair week at Calgary. Tickets on sale June 30th good to July 10th.

Acme is having a sports day on next Friday, July 7th. A good programme has been arranged and they will no doubt have a good time on that day.

The addition to Collins Bros. pool room is progressing rapidly, and will shortly be ready to receive the large billiard table which will be installed.

Earners get your buildings insured in the Wawanesa Mutual Fire Insurance Co. It is both economical and safe. $1.10 per hundred for three years. Hultgren & Davie, Agents.

The Base Ball boys went to Bowden on Tuesday to play a game with that burg, but were unable to play owing to the heavy rain that was falling when they arrived.

The nice showers of rain which we are having almost daily will go a long way in hurrying on the crops and in making the harvest such as has never been witnessed in this Great West.

SPECTACLES—Motheral the Jeweler carries a good line of Spectacles and Goggles and no matter what is wrong with your Spectacles or Eye Glasses he can Repair them.

Mrs. F. H. Motheral, who has been on a visit to her husband here for the past six weeks, left on Monday evening for her home in Plattville, Ont. Mrs. Motheral will visit points in Saskatchewan and Manitoba before arriving home. She was accompanied as far as Calgary by Mr. Motheral, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvie.

The Dilsbury Pioneer is complaining about the umpire that Olds took down to umpire the game at Dilsbury. Now we are really and truly sorry for Dilsbury if this Olds man was any worse than the one Dilsbury brought down here on Coronation Day.

The local Union of the United Farmers of Alberta will hold a picnic on July 12th, 1911, at the farm of F. A. Lynch, 7 miles east and 1 mile south of Carstairs. Base ball racing, sports, etc. Messrs. Frean and Bowers are expected to give addresses, also speakers from local unions.

Mr. Jno. Featherstone came up from Calgary on Tuesday afternoon, where he has been for the past two weeks with his son Gus, who was taken to the Holy Cross Hospital suffering from appendicitis, and his many friends here will be pleased to learn that he has successfully undergone an operation and at present writing is on the highway to recovery.

Mrs. A. R. Thomas entertained the ladies Social Club at her home on Wednesday evening. She will not entertain again this season.

The Rev. A. Thorold-Eller, of Airdrie, will hold English Church services in the L. O. O. F. Hall on next Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock and in the future every alternate Sunday until further notice.

Mr. Bent, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, leaves to-day for a two weeks holiday. The cashier's desk in the meantime will be filled by Mr. Rand, of Medicine Hat.

The work on the foundation for the Washington-Alberta Land Co.'s elevator on the north side of the Alberta-Pacific has been dropped, the land being not firm enough for to carry the heavy building necessary, and the building will now be erected on the site lately occupied by the Imperial Elevator, which was burned last year.

Messrs. Doyle, of Summerside, P. E. I., and Elliott, of Boston, Mass., have purchased the grocery and dry good department of Ontkes & Armstrong. Stock will be taken on Monday, and as soon as this has been completed the new firm will be in charge, and will be known under the style of Doyle & Elliott. Both of the gentlemen are old hands at the business, and will no doubt receive the trade that has been accorded to the old firm in this line. Watch the Chronicle for their announcement in next week's issue.

The Six Flying Banvards, the greatest aerial act of the day, to appear at the Calgary Industrial Exhibition, June 30th to July 7th.

CROSSFIELD, ALTA., JUNE 30, 1911

Died of Neglect

It seems that a volunteer fire brigade in a small town all take the same way, and within a few months at best pass out of existence, and in the case of the Crossfield Fire Brigade it took only about two weeks and seventeen minutes for it to cease to be. This state of affairs is deplorable in so far as the Village has taken upon itself the expense of furnishing the where-with-all to fight a fire should one arise, and they are going to cost just as much should they never be used, and it is a settled fact that they can never be used successfully if the men who are to handle them at the fire do not understand perfectly what they are about.

It seems strange that the business men of the town cannot spend a few minutes of their time each week in getting together and practicing with these engines. Some day Crossfield like all towns will have a fire, and then, and perhaps not till then will they realize the significance of what it means to have a fire brigade that understands its business.

Not only should the business men take an interest in this body, but also the men who are employed in the town, for although it may not mean a benefit in a financial way it may mean the saving of property for others, and perhaps even human life.

When next Tuesday evening comes we hope to see a full turnout of the old members, and others who are willing to join and help keep this very important body alive and flourishing.

Care of Homeless Children

The development of private charities during the last twenty five years has been greatly retarded by the fact that different governments have adopted a policy of caring for their own public charges.

Previous to 1900 there was a great wave of private charity which had been gradually sweeping over the world, and immense institutions had been provided from private sources, not only for the care of adults but for the care of destitute and orphan children.

During the past ten years many of these institutions have been abandoned as outlets of private philanthropy, and the work has been absorbed in the public policy of the state or government.

This condition applies particularly to work among destitute or neglected children; and there is not a state in the Union, and possibly not a province in the Dominion, wherein special provision has not been made for the care of the children who are liable to grow up in be charges on the community through lack of proper training and through the neglect or cruelty of parents.

The number of destitute children who have been dealt with on the American continent during the past year is something appalling. The Delineator alone, found homes for over 2,000 homeless or neglected children. The New York Juvenile Asylum placed about 1,500 in foster-homes in the Western States. The Chicago Children's Aid Society dealt with about 7,000 cases of neglected children in the last year of its history; and the province of Alberta with its population of 300,000, has been compelled to deal with about 200 cases of absolute neglect, and possibly five to six hundred cases of delinquency, during the past year.

No matter how careful the preparation of a case; there is always the danger of an injustice being done either to the child or to its home. Carelessness on the part of an investigator may bring in a report detrimental to the home, which, had the home been properly investigated, would never have been presented. On the other hand, a report may be presented which would keep a child in a home where it is exposed to the most immoral and frightful conditions. For that reason it takes a great deal of time, a great deal of patience, and a great deal of faith to accomplish the end held in view when a case of child neglect is brought into the courts of the land.

It is sometimes necessary to watch a case for weeks before taking any action, in order that the Department may be satisfied that an injustice is not being done either to the parent or to the child.

The object which has to be constantly before the eyes of the Department is the fact that every child is a future citizen, and that the responsibility for its future lies largely in the hands of the department; and if an injustice is done either to the child or its home, a serious impediment has been placed in the road to the goal of citizenship upon which every child has a right to travel with as little interference as possible.

Summer Fallow

In a recent communication to Mr. Thos. Fitzgerald, Mr. G. H. Hutton, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Lacombe, states that summer fallowing at this time of the year should be plowed from 5 to 6 inches deep, and then if diced a roller or packer should be used immediately afterwards to keep down the weeds. Mr. Hutton also recommends that the land should be cultivated again later in the season but only shallow work is necessary at this time. The annual excursion to the farm will be held as usual this summer, but no definite date has as yet been set.

CROP AREA IN ALBERTA

TWO MILLION ACRES UNDER CROP IN ALBERTA

Area Sown to Which and Oats Alone is Greater Than Total Acreage of All Crops Last Year—As Yet Only Two Per Cent. of Arable Land in Alberta Under Cultivation—Wheat Area in Northern Alberta.

Edmonton.—Crop statistics as completed by the department of agriculture indicate that the area sown to wheat and oats alone are greater this year than the total of the acreage from which crops were harvested in 1910 and that all along the line, not only is the actual acreage increase phenomenal, but the conditions of the crops are such that a yield exceeding by a very wide margin the yield per acre in 1910 may be expected. The total acreage under crop this year is 1,900,000, of which 765,345 is sown to oats, 672,704 to spring wheat and 464,444 to winter wheat. This gives a total of no less than 1,881,543 in wheat and oats, greater by 388,282 acres than the total cereal areas harvested in 1910.

Last year the oats crop totalled 492,688, the spring wheat crop 450,485, and the winter wheat crop 142,467. Barley comes fourth this year with 123,347 acres sown, as compared with 101,403 in 1910. The flax areas have been increased by almost 200 per cent., from 15,000 in 1910 to 30,000 in 1911, and the acreage in other grains, in 1910, 1,600, is this year 1,800,000, a remarkably large total of 174,875 acres.

Conditions as to moisture throughout the province are reported to be "uniformly good," the report reads. "A few places have apparently not enjoyed as much moisture as usual, but other districts have had abundance. The crop outlook on the whole, therefore, is very bright."

"Although the crop increase this year is very large," said the deputy minister of agriculture, "there is yet not more than two per cent. of the arable land of the province under cultivation. Of the area of 18,258,000 acres, which make up the province of Alberta, allowance may be made for 1,500,000 for lakes throughout the province which is unfit for cultivation. Approximately 16,000,000 acres of land, only two per cent. of which has as yet known the plow, exist within the borders of the province for the most conservative estimate would place the total of arable land at two-thirds of the total area."

Mr. Harcourt dwelt upon the possibilities of the vast wheat areas which lie to the north of the province, and pointed out that not only to Fort Smith, 450 miles north of Edmonton on the provincial boundary, but also to Fort Resolution, 800 miles in a direct line from this city, and 15 miles west of the northwest corner of the province, and to Fort Simpson 650 miles almost due north, and 15 miles north of the boundary. At Fort Simpson an experimental farm has been established by the Dominion government, and another is to be established under management of Mr. Bell. At Fort Vermilion, further south, between 30,000 and 40,000 bushels of grain are produced every year and disposed of to the settlers of the north, and the success which has attended the agricultural experiments at Fort Laird and Fort Simpson indicate that the climatic conditions are such that crops may be successfully raised throughout the whole of this vast area. During the present year the Dominion experimental farm at Ottawa has produced a new wheat, the Marquis wheat, which matures from 10 to 14 days earlier than the Red Fife which has hitherto been Alberta's earliest maturing wheat, and is equally good milling. This wheat will prove admirably adapted to the country of the far north. In the Grande Prairie country and other portions of Central Alberta, the late maturing grains can be raised successfully.

New Name for Imperial Conference.

London.—A Canadian, who occupies a prominent position in the commercial world of London, writes to suggest that a better word should be found to describe the federation of the Mother Country and the Britains beyond the seas than "Imperial." Why not, he asks, "The United Nations Conference," or the "Conference of the United Nations of Britain" instead of "Imperial Conference." The word "Imperial" suggests a dominating or central power, whereas "United Nations" implies equality, and dignified. He thinks that the "United Nations of Britain (or Greater Britain)" would meet with universal approval.

"The only objection," says The Daily Chronicle, "is that this isn't a word, but a phrase—and we have to save time and space."

Compensation for Japan and Canada. Washington.—The International Seal conference, which has been in session intermittently here for several weeks past, has been called to meet again this week.

The delegations awaiting instruction from their home governments on several points, mostly connected with the amount of compensation to be paid by America and Russia to Japan and Canada for the relinquishment of the right of pelagic sealing.

It is now expected that an agreement can be reached within a fortnight.

IS NOT AN EMPIRE

Word is a Misnomer and the Old Autocratic Terminology Must Vanish

London.—An article by Rev. J. A. Macdonald, of the Toronto Globe, in The Nation, says in part:

The essential loyalty of the overseas dominions need not be protected any longer. That loyalty is the loyalty of equals, and offered, not to the old-time notion of empire, but to the new-born ideal which has come into the vision of English-speaking peoples and which is the high privilege of British-born nations. This thing stirring the life of British peoples, the word "Empire," is a misnomer. New significance must be given to the old autocratic terminology on the understanding that the Empire is not in very truth an Empire and the King is not an emperor. All of us are glad and proud to be citizens of the British Empire and subjects of the King.

Sale Nets a Million

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion government is richer by something over a million dollars by reason of a sale of part of the Blackfoot Indian reservation at Glendon, Alta. Some 113,000 acres of this reserve were surrendered for sale and 505,000 to 600,000 acres have been disposed of at $17 to $18 per acre. Part of the proceeds goes back to the Indians in farm implements and equipment.

French Cabinet Decides to Resist

TO MAKE CONCESSIONS

BOTH PARTIES IN COAL STRIKE ADOPT PEACEFUL ATTITUDE

Prospects Are Now Very Favorable for an Early Settlement of the Strike—Chairman's Report is now Ready to Submit to the Government, but Neither Side Wants Him to Submit the Report.

Buff.—The conciliation committee appointed by the government to inquire into the causes of the coal strike and settle it if possible, are still unable to announce a settlement although Dr. Gordon and J. D. McNeill, who represent the government upon the board, admitted that both sides had made concessions. That it will mean the settlement of the strike, but no one can say definitely. But both sides are working in due earnest to settle the dispute which is more than can be said of the combatants at any other period.

It is almost impossible to get Dr. Gordon to express himself definitely regarding the prospects of an early settlement.

"Things are more promising today than they have been at any other period," he says, "when asked his opinion. 'I will not say that we will settle the strike, but we will exhaust every resource in doing so,' continued the chairman."

Dr. Gordon, fair wage officer of the department of labor, while hesitating to express himself definitely, gave it as his personal opinion that the strike would be settled within the next few days.

Dr. Gordon has his report ready to submit to the government but it is very apparent that neither side wants him to submit the report. He will not say who the report will favor, and for that reason both sides would rather settle the strike here for fear that the report will favor the other side.

The fact that both sides have made concessions certainly points toward an early settlement of the dispute. Mr. Gordon has given up toward into each meet in the same room to discuss the situation. Instead of this he meets with one committee at a time, points out where its demands are unreasonable, or where a concession is possible, and then meets the other side and repeats the performance.

"I'm going to keep these dogs of war chained apart until they are both tired," is the picturesque way the chairman expresses his manner of proceeding.

Menorial Car at Calgary Exhibition. Calgary.—The very latest achievements in the science of transportation can be witnessed at the fair in the model menorial car, specially constructed for this event by the Central Scientific Co., of Chicago. This achievement of the inventor Brown is one of the greatest discoveries of the age. The successful running of a car on a single rail suspended in the air is bound to revolutionize the world's transportation systems. Those interested can not only see it at the exhibition but get scientific explanations from the expert in charge.

High Wire King at Calgary Exhibition

Calgary.—No other man in the aerial business has ever gained a more enviable reputation and popularity than Hardy, whose marvellous exhibitions of skill and daring over the greatest globe in the world at Niagara, Genesee and Montmorency, have in themselves stamped him as the most heroic and daring performer the world has ever known. Hardy does all his most daring feats at the Calgary Industrial Exhibition, from 30th to July 7th. Don't miss seeing him.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON 1—THIRD QUARTER, FOR JULY 2, 1911.

Text of the Lesson, Isa. xxviii, 21-28. Memory Verses, 33-35 — Golden Text, Ps. xlii, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The story of Heczekiah is somewhat fully recorded not only in II Kings and II Chronicles, but also in the prophecy of Isaiah. A few weeks ago we were considering how he began his reign by repairing and cleansing the temple under the keeping of the Passover for all Israel, summoning the twelve tribes thereto. He wrought that which was good and right and truth before the Lord his God, and he sought God with all his heart and prospered (II Chron. xxxi, 20, 21). Such devotion to the living and true God was more than the devil could stand for, for all who will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution (II Tim. iii, 12), so he stirred up the king of Assyria to fight against Jerusalem and reviling the people as well as to mock and blaspheme the God of Israel and His people. To his blasphemy and reviling the people answered not a word, but held their peace, as the king had taught them (II Kings xviii, 36).

This strong and brave courting of death, Isa. xxxviii, 13, and thus did the Lord Jesus save before the high priest and Pilate. Matt. xxvi, 29, 30; xxvii, 14, 15. "When He was reviled He reviled not again; when He suffered He threatened not; but committed Himself to Him who would judge Him justly." (I Pet. ii, 23) "He was despised and despised Him about all such. He has personally perished before our eyes, but He has not perished. If you do not receive wicked letters you will not receive the letters of the Lord. He has been spoken against you. Just tell all to the Lord Jesus and leave all."

Heczekiah's prayer at this time is a most refreshing story (II Kings xix, 14-19). Heczekiah was a man of prayer, and his reason for asking deliverance was that all the earth might know the power of the Lord his God. He was a man of prayer in his time of difficulty (II Chron. xxxii, 2). Heczekiah was thus saved by the prayers of the people because he was himself comforted by his trust in the Lord. "Be strong and courageous; do not be afraid nor dismayed for the king of Assyria. There be more with us than there be with them: for we are with the Lord our God, and He is with us to fight our battles." (Isa. xli, 1-7)

In the portion assigned us today we have the Lord's answer to Heczekiah through the prophet Isaiah. It becomes us to be sure that God answers prayer, and having committed our affairs to Him, leave all with Him in quietness even though we may not have as speedy an answer as the king had. There is a real peace in the words of the Lord God of Israel. The Virgin, the daughter of Zion, both despised and laughed at, and scorn (verse 28). When Kings and rulers take counsel together against the Lord, He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh, the Lord shall have them in derision (Ps. ii, 15). When the Lord's people are persecuted in any way it is the Lord Himself who is touched. When the king of Assyria reproached and despised the king of Judah he was really blaspheming the Lord, the Holy One of Israel (verses 23, 24). The king of Assyria shall be again and again until the last great blasphemer shall be cast into the lake of fire (Dan. ii, 35; Rev. xii, 48; xiii, 19).

It is God Himself that the devil hates and would destroy, but he could and therefore shows his hatred toward the people of God, but hear the Lord as He says to him, "I will say above, and they going out, and they coming in, and they rage against me (verse 36). Then note what follows at His assurance of deliverance and mark well the words. 'The seal of the Lord of hosts shall do this' (verse 39). Compare Isa. ix, 7, and be assured that the seal of the Lord of hosts will not rest till the king shall sit on David's throne and reign over the house of Jacob (Luke i, 31-33). For His own sake and for His servant David's sake He will do it (verse 35). See how easily the Lord can overthrow His enemies and deliver His people. He has but to speak and it is done. The Lord is with us, and He is with us, and by His power 180,000 of the Assyrian army died. Thus easily did He overthrow Pharaoh and his hosts in the Red Sea.

In Israel's last extremity, when the voice of anticrist shall be gathered against Jerusalem, He shall come in the clouds of heaven with power and might, and He shall tread the wine of the spirit of His mouth and destroy with the brightness of His coming as He says to him, "I will say above, and they going out, and they coming in, and they rage against me (verse 36). Then note what follows at His assurance of deliverance and mark well the words. 'The seal of the Lord of hosts shall do this' (verse 39). Compare Isa. ix, 7, and be assured that the seal of the Lord of hosts will not rest till the king shall sit on David's throne and reign over the house of Jacob (Luke i, 31-33). For His own sake and for His servant David's sake He will do it (verse 35). See how easily the Lord can overthrow His enemies and deliver His people. He has but to speak and it is done. The Lord is with us, and He is with us, and by His power 180,000 of the Assyrian army died. Thus easily did He overthrow Pharaoh and his hosts in the Red Sea.

Remember how when Judas and his band came to arrest Him in the days of His humiliation and weakness He was weary and faint, and He went backward and fell to the ground. Remember also that "by the word of the Lord" He was raised up, and He and all the host of them by the breath of His mouth" (Ps. cxviii, 6) and ask what you know of the power and wisdom of God. May He grant us according to the riches of His glory to be strong with might in His spirit in the inner man (Eph. iii, 16).

When you give temptation a chance to talk it over, he's got you!

KING GEORGE.

QUEEN MARY.

The Crowning of Their Majesties

London.—Perhaps never in history, certainly never in the experience of any person who witnessed it, has there been an historic scene so magnificent as the ancient Abbey of Westminster presented when George V. and Queen Mary were seated in state upon their thrones.

All who attended the crowning of Edward VII. agreed that the ceremony surpassed every previous spectacle in every circumstance of stately stage setting, of solemn ritual, inspiring music, the host of royal and eminent personages, the wonderful display of rich uniforms, bright gowns, marvellous jewels, which combined to create an impression of awe and admiration.

Their majesties, with gleaming coronas on their heads and gorgeous robes outspread behind them, the great Cullinan diamond flashing from the imperial crown; all the nobles of the throne in quaint costumes of ancient office, with a few modern uniforms, the four peeresses attending the queen in shimmering gowns, ages in light blue and white and grouped behind them an array of church dignitaries robed in garb of gold, formed the centre of the picture.

Below the king and queen were the young Prince of Wales, almost smothered in the dark blue robes of the Order of the Garter, and the Duke of Connaught in the uniform of field marshal.

Yeomen of the guard, with halberds, lined the aisles throughout the space of the Abbey, and in the great boxes rising high against the walls and filling the transepts and galleries, were 7,000 spectators, forming blocks of quivering variegated color. In one group were the future rulers of most of the kingdoms of Europe, with their aides.

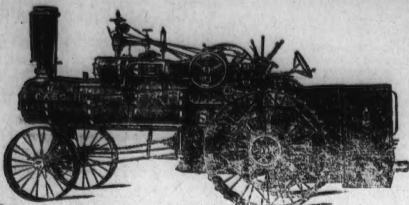

The arrival of Their Majesties at the abbey was the signal for a great outburst of applause from the multitude outside.

Immediately upon the entry of their majesties the stately ritualistic service was commenced. The archbishops and their retinue, garbed in the robes of ecclesiastical dignity and authority, entered the abbey while the great choir peals forth the majestic words of the anthem, "Oh God, Our Help in Ages Past, Our Hope in Years to Come." The ceremony, solemn and impressive, was attended with all the pomp and splendor of Anglican ritual. Their majesties seemed deeply impressed with the solemnity of the hour and entered fully into the spirit of the service. The prayers were followed by the reading of the scriptures, and voices being easily distinguishable as they followed the clergy in the responsive part of the exercises. When the aged Archbishop of Canterbury placed the emblem of imperial authority on the head of His Majesty the scene was deeply impressive.

The ceremony dating far back into history was never more solemn and the religious significance seemed to stand out above all other features of the hour.

The honor of placing the coronet on Her Majesty fell to the Archbishop of York and was attended with full ceremonial dignity. In the communion service their majesties humbly knelt and rendered their homage to the great King of Kings. Those privileged to witness the great scene in the Abbey are likely to long carry the impressions of the hour.
